WHY THIS ONE

You're in Germany. Plug this thing in at night and drive to work for free. The C350e is a plug-in hybrid, which means it runs on electric power at the base and switches to the turbo engine when you want to stretch its legs on the Autobahn. Full Mercedes luxury, heated seats, sunroof, blind spot assist, and that Stuttgart build quality that holds up well when it needs service here. Parts are everywhere in Germany, and the labor won't hurt like it would stateside. Selenite Grey, black leather, 92K miles, and you're not paying German taxes on it.
